Cheeri was a very special friend to me, we were not blood sisters but felt like sisters. Cheeri gave me a pillow 2 years ago for Christmas that said it all " To my Bonus Sister, family isn't always blood , its the people in your life who want you in theirs. The ones who accept you for who you are, who would do anything to see you smile , and love you no matter what". Yes that was my Bonus Friend. We spent many hours in our church and family life center kitchen doing meals for our church for one reason or another and that was so much fun. Such a special dear little friend.... Love and miss you , see you when I get to heaven little friend. Nancy

I just found this out and I am sooo sad. Barry and Cherri were born again Christina's and loved the Lord and part of Bible believing Christ blood salvation church. They helped at my (God's soup kitchen helping hands ministries of Harrisburg) I am so sad to find this out mo the later. That's FB for ya. But Cherrie was a wonderful woman she and Barry are now together with their Lord and Savior

“ Oh, my heart is broken to hear the news. I only just learned of your passing today when I tried to call and your phone was off. It didn't take long for Google to tell me that you had gone home.

About a year ago, I started cleaning your house, and from the day I walked in you treated me with such dignity, kindness and respect. You welcomed me as a friend but made me feel like family. Our last conversation was shortly before you were supposed to Be getting back home. I knew hospice was coming, but I just didn't know you would pass so soon. I had hoped to have one more day to sit and chat, or try to fix your TV (TRY is the most important word there ☺ or snap pictures of you all under the Christmas tree. All the while sharing laughs and stories about our hopes for the future. Today, I both grieve your loss, and celebrate your homecoming. Heaven is Even more beautiful with you in it and I am certain you are surrounded by the most amazing kind of love. The same kind of love you shared with everyone you came in contact with. You will be missed terribly. 🍀

“ Cheeri was my best friend for 72 years. We had such a great time growing up. I will never watch Gone With The Wind without thinking of you. We made that speeding trip to Harrisburg from Lewistown to see Gone With The Wind together about 1966, last time I saw it in the theater, saw it with my best friend and sister. Many years ago we made appointments to talk with each other long distance. I am still going to be angry because you will not answer my texts but I understand you are busy with Jesus. Love you forever. Your sister, Lola Marie.

“ Cheeri was a sweetheart from my days at Daybreak Church where we had many fun times. She suffered with health problems for a long time and now she is in the arms of Jesus. Hallelujah!
