I didn't know Jamie very well, but he was very close to my son Tyler Elhadj. They worked together with Dino at the bike shop and the car lot. I spent some time talking with him at Dino's funeral. My heart goes out to his family and friends. I am still in disbelief after what happened, as I was also in the funeral procession line. It is just so shocking I cannot put it into words. Thought and prayers for the family.
