“ It's not going to be the same without you buddy. All the card games, going out to eat, the many laughs, the witty remarks, which you were always good for. Just sitting out in the garage talking about all the problems of the world or the many attributes that you show towards friends whether it be your welding skills or your purchasing of old relics or collectables to talk about. God Bless and may you R.I.P. Dick & Flo

I still can not believe you have been taken from us. Nothing will ever be the same and my tears may never dry. My only comfort is I know you are no longer in pain! As my dear sweet brother I will miss you and my heart will forever hurt until I see you again in heaven! May you and Valli fly high together until I get to be with you both again one day. May you Rest In Peace sweet brother!
